Heritage Platters is a professionally managed joint venture company and a trusted exporter, supplier, and trader of high-quality Indian food products, established with the vision of delivering authentic Indian flavors to global markets. Founded by Ms. Shefali Deepak Agarwal, the company combines collective industry expertise, shared values, and strong operational capabilities to serve buyers worldwide with reliability and excellence.

We specialize in a comprehensive range of food categories that reflect India's rich agricultural and culinary heritage. Our offerings include premium pulses and lentils, rice and grains, beans and chickpeas, dry fruits and nuts, and seeds and superfoods, sourced from trusted growers and processors. To preserve originality, purity, and taste, we follow strict quality control measures and hygienic handling practices at every stage of sourcing, processing, and packaging.

Heritage Platters is also recognized for its wide selection of traditional Indian pickles, whole spices, spice powders, and blended masalas, prepared using time-honored recipes and carefully balanced flavors. Complementing this range is our assortment of papad and appalam, Indian namkeen snacks, chips, khakhra varieties, flavored makhana, vegetable powders, and cooking pastes and herbs, catering to modern preferences while retaining traditional authenticity.

With worldwide market coverage, we cater to importers, wholesalers, retailers, and bulk buyers seeking consistent quality and dependable supply. Our strengths lie in ethical sourcing, competitive pricing, flexible packaging options, and efficient logistics. At Heritage Platters, we aim to build long-term global partnerships by delivering products that represent trust, taste, and the true essence of India.
