About Us

Ghosh & Company, founded in 2013, is a pioneer in the supply of surgical products in North 24 Parganas, West Bengal. Numerous surgical and operational procedures are accommodated by our surgical products. Our disposable surgical clothing is utilised by staff in operating rooms, and all of our goods are hygienically prepared to ensure infection control.

Our products are frequently used to meet the needs of numerous hospitals located all across the nation. Our goods' characteristics for protection, infection control, and hygiene account for their appeal. To offer high-quality items, the production process is streamlined.

Packaging Facility

We provide premium shrink wrap wrapping for all of our products, along with corrugated box packing and a foolproof packaging method that guards against product damage during transit.

The surgical disposable garments we offer are moisture-proof, high-quality, and simple to handle thanks to the use of packaging materials of the highest calibre. Additionally, our superior packaging offers protection from shock and vibration.

Our Mission

Our company's objective is to offer all the safe, hygienic supplies required to perform surgical procedures. We use hygienic practices during our supply chain to guarantee that our products are free of bacteria and viruses. Therefore, our goal is to provide items that are safe and priced affordably.

Why Us

We continually provide safe and hygienic products to numerous hospitals throughout the country thanks to our knowledge and experience in surgical items.
