In Jamnagar, the safe and industrial home of Mr Kamani Divyesh, Ravi Brass Industries precedes over brass fittings and valves for its prime business. Our wide product range fills different industrial needs for each industry while ensuring accuracy, durability and reliability.

We provide brass socket hex, bulkhead union, brass 90-degree female elbow, and brass pipe plug as some of our many brass fittings types. Such fittings have the best engineering, which yields an impeccable fit and long-lasting durability.

Our brass compression fittings have come with different choices such as elbows, unions, tees, nuts, and compression sleeves which are all intended for better performance and make connections remarkably reliable for a variety of situations.

These products are produced on a world-class level and can satisfy even the most fastidious demands for durability and quality. Valve types like lever handle ball valves, check valves, drain cocks, needle valves, gate valves, etc are among the products here.

Moreover, the range of purposes of our tubing and hosing solutions comprising copper and nylon hoses, and air brake pipes have an adaption to hydraulics and pneumatics which ensures strength in hard situations.

Because of its commitment to quality and innovation, Ravi Brass Industries has established a solid reputation in the industry. We deliver top-notch products that accurately and reliably meet the needs of our customers.
