About Us

Vandana Organic takes pride in providing high-quality, delicious, and health-conscious products in the 21st century.

Our commitment spans across time—from the past to the present and into the future. We are a prominent business group based in central India with diversified interests in agri-input, food processing, feed processing, cosmetics production, and organic contract farming.

Having accumulated extensive expertise in both the processing of agricultural produce and trading, Vandana Organic ventured into the Organic Division, leading cluster organic cultivation in Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Gujarat and Maharashtra. Our dedicated team of qualified officers ensures that crops are cultivated and harvested in accordance with the stringent norms set by India, USA, Canada, Japan and Europe.

This meticulous approach has earned us the trust, faith, and confidence of both international and domestic buyers. At Vandana Organic, we are committed to maintaining the highest standards of quality, taste, and health, positioning ourselves as a reliable and visionary contributor to the global organic market.

Who we are

"Vandana Organic" is all about creating healthy and organic products with a deep-rooted belief in better food choices. We started with a focus on supporting global health initiatives. Now, we aim to revive our strong heritage and pass on the organic tradition to a new generation and the world.

We promise that our products are 100% organic, free from GMOs, and certified for quality.

Our Mission

At Vandana Organic, our mission is to cultivate a harmonious ecosystem where health thrives, care is paramount, farmers flourish, and nourishment becomes a transformative experience. With a deep commitment to the well-being of individuals, our products embody a journey that nurtures both body and soul, creating a world where every element—human, plant, and community—flourishes.

Our Vision

At Vandana Organic, our vision is to pioneer a future where organic excellence is the heartbeat of well-being. Rooted in our core values, we strive to create a unique identity that champions excellence, fosters global well-being, and sets a timeless standard for organic integrity in every drop, seed, and bite we share.
