ABOUT US

Global Herbitech was established in the year 2007. We are devoted to cultivation & processing of Essential oils, carrier oils and Standardized Medicinal plant extracts. The company is managed by Dr. S. K. Bakshi who has the rich experience of 30 years in cultivation, genetic up gradation, processing and value edition of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants. The plants are grown in Near to Nature conditions in various parts of India. Company has engaged prospective growers/farmers for producing the herbal materials, under their technical guidance, suited to temperate, subtropical, tropical and alpine locations, besides its own cultivation farms and processing plants. Besides India, Global Herbitech is exporting to reputed companies in Asia & Europe.

QUALITY CONTROL

We continuously strive to maintain international standards of quality control measures. All products offered by us are stringently checked, tested and inspected on various quality parameters by our quality analysts to ensure clients get the best products from us. Apart from quality analysts, the company is managed by highly professional team comprising scientists and business managers.

WAREHOUSING

We are reckoned among the most trusted Suppliers and Exporters of Essential oils,

Carrier Oils & Standardized Medicinal plant extracts. All the products offered by us are stocked in our well maintained warehouses to make sure remain safe and are not damaged.
