Alliance Plus, situated in Delhi, India, was founded in 1965 and is a leading and distinguished wholesaler, supplier, and exporter of chemicals. We are working as individuals (sole proprietorships). We professionally deal in barium carbonate powder, chrome oxide green powder, strontium carbonate powder, alumina trihydrate powder, barium hydroxide powder, barium peroxide powder, barium sulphate powder, bentonite powder, and calcined alumina powder. All products available with us are of the highest quality.

Our strength is our information, hard work, and humble starting, and hence, we forever opt for niche segments where technical proficiency and active management connections are needed to perform the production. Based on this trend, we have diversified into a broad range of products with equally diverse usages.

Our diverse and wide range of products goes a long way in showing our technological expertise and our quality standards. We are now one of the most renowned manufacturers of chemicals in India. We possess a strong technical base, allowing us to innovate and stay at the forefront of our industry. Based on this, we have diversified into a broad range of products with equally varied applications.

Alliance Plus is professionally managed. Mr. Adviteeya Aggarwal is the owner of the company. Our target market is pan-India, and we supply all over India. Our manufacturing capabilities contain specialised plants for diverse items; make sure to have a robust production base.
