Shree Mahakali Agro Ind is an ever-growing company innovating with recent market trends to come up as a company that meets with the market demands and requirements. And this we best do with our advanced production facility at Banaskantha, Gujarat, under the strict vigilance of founder, Mr. Bharat A Patel.

Since we started our fruitful journey in 2012, we have been successfully feeding innumerable poultry and farm animals with our groundnut shell powder in various mesh sizes. Our different mesh sizes include 60, 40 and 100 mesh. Apart from groundnut shell powder, we also deal with all types of bran products which are equally good and superior in quality.

All our products have been developed in-house under the watchful eyes of technicians and technically sound people so that we can manufacture A-1 quality goods that will feed animals without causing them any harm. And with the knowledge of our experts, we have manufactured products that incorporate other healthy nutrients that will augment the growth of poultry and farm animals who feed on them.

With our commitment and quality, we have catered to the entire country with sincerity and dedication like none other. That is why we are proud to declare that we are catering to an ever-growing customer base that is continuously expanding. We hope to remain dedicated to our services so long as our footprints are visible in the market.
