About Us

Krishna Sales Corporation has started operations in the year 2010 to abolish the issue of failing network signals and weak cellular data connectivity. These issues have been a consistent hindrance to communication and have negatively impacted the business flow. With a team of certified professionals and industry veterans, we came forward to provide a robust and competitive solution. From the beginning, our aim was to streamline signal issues across all possible signal carriers such that people are connected seamlessly from the comfort of their homes and offices.

Our aim is to abolish the issue of inconsistent cellular networks across the world. Our mission is to establish smooth communication by boosting the signal strength offered by the cellular network service provider.
