Our organization, Elpro Technologies, was established in the Year 2007 as a prime manufacturer, wholesaler, trader, retailer and supplier of Software and Hardware Products.

About Us

Our organization, Elpro Technologies, was established in the Year 2007 as a prime manufacturer, wholesaler, trader, retailer and supplier of Software and Hardware Products. Our reputation within the industry is preceded by the production of a unique range of products which includes Industrial PC, Fanless Computer and Single Board Computer among a vast range of other functional products. We make extensive efforts to deliver the best services to our clients by constantly endeavoring to produce unmatched products that are unique to our organization. We strive to maintain cordial business dealings with our existing clients and yearn to incorporate more associations within our circle of mutual business productivity.

OUR TEAM

We proudly associate ourselves with a team of skilled professionals from various sectors of the industry. Each employee within the organization renders dedicated services towards the completion of our products. We continually conduct workshops and seminars to boost the performance and educate our employees on new tactics and methods to boost overall productivity. All our employees know their work well and work in unison amongst departments to ensure smooth flow of work.

OUR INFRASTRUCTURE

Our organization's highest stand point is our infrastructure. We have designed our campus to allow utmost flow of productivity. We have segregated various departments to ensure divided flow of work that boosts overall rate of manufacture and production. Our manufacturing and assembly line makes good use of high-tech machinery to render our products' completion. We store our finished products in our highly secure warehousing division from where shipments are dispatched for the client to avail our services at short notice periods.

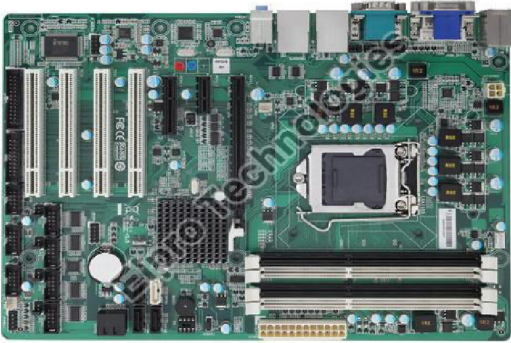

QUALITY ASSURANCE

We maintain strict checks on quality to ascertain our clients receive only the best products that we have to offer. Our raw materials are procured from vendors of high repute, who have been established within the industry. Our manufacturing and assembly line ensures precision in the production of each component before calculatedly assembling them into one product. We ensure that each product is tested for quality and stands through the test of time by ensuring utmost functionality in the quality testing department. Once the superior quality of our product is ascertained, we forward it for dispatch in secure packaging for our clients.
