About Us

Driven with a vision to become a world leader in industrial insulation and plastic components, Hason Industries has been serving the emerging demands of the clients with a professional approach in the area of operations. Ours is an accredited manufacturer and supplier of glass epoxy products, insulation products, and polymer products. Designed using the finest grade material and modern techniques, our offerings can be sourced in any quantity all around the year. Keeping quality at the core of our operations, we have successfully managed to gain and retain customers. Our mission is to fulfil ever-changing industry demands with utmost ease. We thus accept bespoke requirements concerning product specifications, packaging and labeling.

We have support of logistics service providers. With their strong support, we are capable to achieve our company goals of delivering products on time and maintaining year-around inventory.

Hason Industries is an ISO 9001:2015 certified company that has been serving retail and bulk product demands of the clients in the Indian subcontinent since 2014. We started our company operations with a sole motive to become a trusted partner of the clients in the market. Hason Industries is a partnership firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act 1932. The company is based in Hyderabad (Telangana, India) and our company operations are managed by Mr. Abdul Qader Sidhpurwala. He serves the company as its CEO and oversees our trade operations in the regional marketplace.

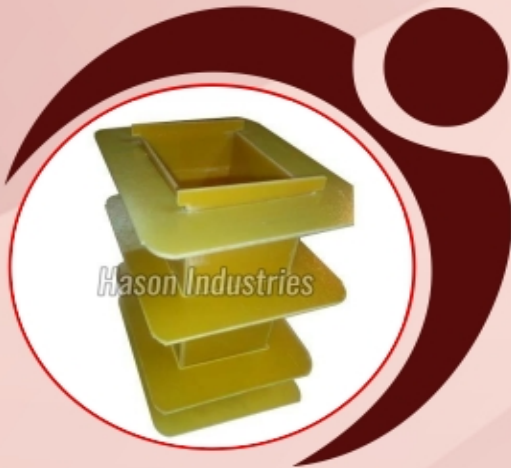

The Modern Infrastructural Facility

Hason Industries has invested a large sum for establishing its own facility. We have parted it into different units for the ease of operations – production, storage, quality-checking, packaging, and labeling. We have installed several modern technology based machinery including 3 CNC router machines to develop a precision-engineered product array. A dedicated team of industry experts is appointed to handle our company operations to meet the stated norms of the industry.

Quality Standards

The management of Hason Industries is concerned about the quality of our offerings – products and services. We thus have adopted a set of parameters. We implement them in our operations to meet the industry standards. Besides, we evolve our work methods and techniques to improve productivity and reduce the cost without sacrificing on quality.
