At ØRN, we work in partnership with you from the very start of your workwear journey, guiding you to make informed, strategic decisions about your workwear needs. With decades of industry expertise, we act as trusted advisors, helping you navigate the complexities of specifying and sourcing the right garments for your workforce that will last – protecting your employees and brand identity. From sustainability and compliance, through to comfort and durability, we help you get it right, first time

Why ØRN?

ØRN means eagle in Danish and this majestic bird has always embodied the spirit of our brand – recognised for its strength, vision and relentless pursuit of excellence. Built to last, strength you can count on and an eagle-eyed attention to detail. We enable your people to do their best every day. We are continuously improving and stop at nothing in the pursuit of excellence for our clients. This is evident in our expert rigour, how we listen, how we interpret and how we solve...balancing quality, durability and value so the combination is just right. This unwavering focus has enabled us to offer the ØRN Promise – a guarantee on Stock, Quality and Service, so you will never have to worry about supply chain disruptions.

Your employees will feel the difference when wearing ØRN. Our garments look better, feel better and wear better over time.
