Below, there's additional information and photographs of the operational work we are conducting there since November 2018.

Dai da mangiare ai poveri di Saint Martin Island dopo l'uragano (ITALIANO)

Stiamo lavorando con le comunità molto povere di Saint Martin e Saint Marin Island per che l'isola è ancora caotica dopo l'uragano Irma e anche se non abbiamo alcun profitto nel nostro lavoro qui, è ancora difficile. L'isola è ancora molto devastato e, non solo noi stessi, ma le persone in generale stanno ancora lottando per lavorare. Abbiamo 1.000 sacchi di riso in 50 dimensioni LBS ciascuno ed è stato molto costoso da consegnare e inventario. Qualsiasi aiuto è benvenuto, quindi potremo donare tutte le buste di riso acquistate qui in beneficenza, scuole e chiese. Tutti sono contenti del riso e del lavoro, ma ci sono ancora molti costi aggiuntivi che lo rendono invidiabile, anche se possiamo vedere che la necessità è estrema.

Doneremo il riso alle seguenti istituzioni: Red Croix France, la Croce Rossa NL, ristorante di alimentari di emergenza Marigot e almeno 10 chiese locali, nonostante abbia dato riso a 20 diversi ristoranti in stile creolo lungo la strada.

Grazie di fare la donazione qua. (./food-for-hurricane-irma-recover-still/donate)

Feed the Poor of Saint Martin Island after Hurricane (ENGLISH)

We are working with the very poor communities in Saint Martin and Saint Marin Island and it has been more difficult than expected as the island is very devastated and, not only ourselves, but people in general are still struggling to work. We have 1,000 bags of rice in 50 LBS size each and it has been very expensive to deliver and inventory. Any help is welcome, so we will be able to donate all the rice bags to charity, schools, and churches. Everybody is happy with the rice and the work but still there's lots of additional costs involved what makes it enviable even if we can see the necessity is extreme.

We will be donating the rice to the following institutions: Red Croix France, Red Cross Nederlands, Emergency Food Restaurant Marigot, and at least 10 local churches, despite giving rice to 20 different street side Creole Style restaurants.

Please, donate here. Thank you. (./food-for-hurricane-irma-recover-still/donate).

Alimente los pobres de Sint Martin despues del Huracan (SPANISH)

Estamos trabajando con las comunidades muy pobres en Saint Martin y Saint Marin Island pero sigue siendo difícil ya que la isla sigue siendo muy devastado y, no solo nosotros, sino que la gente en general sigue luchando por trabajar. Tenemos 1,000 bolsas de arroz en un tamaño de 50 LBS cada una y ha sido muy costoso de entregar e inventariar. Cualquier ayuda es bienvenida, así que podremos donar todas las bolsas de arroz compradas aquí a organizaciones benéficas, escuelas e iglesias. Todos están contentos con el arroz y el trabajo, pero aún así hay muchos costos adicionales, lo que lo hace enviable, incluso si podemos ver que la necesidad es extrema.

Donaremos el arroz a las siguientes instituciones: Red Croix France, Red Cross Nederlands, Emergency Food Restaurant Marigot y al menos 10 iglesias locales, a pesar de dar arroz a 20 diferentes restaurantes de estilo criollo del lado de la calle.

Se agradece hacer la donacion aqui. (./food-for-hurricane-irma-recover-still/donate)

Nourrir les pauvres de l'île Saint-Martin après l'ouragan (FRANCAIS)

Nous travaillons avec les communautés très pauvres de Saint-Martin et de l'île de Saint-Martin après la situation chaotique après l'ouragan Irma et même si notre travail ici ne rapporte rien, c'est toujours aussi difficile que l'île est toujours très dévasté et, pas seulement nous-mêmes, mais les gens en général luttent encore pour travailler. Nous avons 1 000 sacs de riz de 50 lb chacun et la livraison et les stocks ont été très coûteux. Toute aide est la bienvenue, nous pourrons donc faire don de tous les sacs de riz achetés ici à des œuvres caritatives, des écoles et des églises. Tout le monde est content du riz et du travail, mais il y a toujours beaucoup de coûts supplémentaires, ce qui le rend enviable même si nous pouvons voir que la nécessité est extrême.

Nous ferons don du riz aux institutions suivantes: Croix-Rouge France, Croix-Rouge Nederlands, restaurant d'alimentation d'urgence Marigot et au moins 10 églises locales, bien que du riz ait été offert à 20 restaurants de style créole situés en bordure de rue.

Merci faire la donation ici. (./food-for-hurricane-irma-recover-still/donate)

Testo di contributo di Cassandra O'Brien (ITALIANO)

"Il 6 settembre 2017, l'isola è stata sbattuta da Irma, un uragano di categoria 5 che ha lasciato sulla sua scia il relitto. I tetti sono stati portati via, i negozi sono stati buttati di traverso, le inondazioni hanno invaso hotel, negozi di alimentari, scuole e abitazioni. la percentuale di tutte le strutture è stata distrutta dalla tragica devastazione che ha attanagliato l'isola senza alcun rimorso per qualsiasi cosa sul suo cammino.

St. Maarten ha visto molti miglioramenti nel ricostruire ciò che è stato perso. (The Dutch Side) St. Martin d'altra parte è una storia diversa. I progressi nella ricostruzione sono stati molto più lenti. (La parte francese) L'intero sviluppo costiero e le aree di business sono stati completamente distrutti.

Quasi due anni dopo, l'impatto di questa catastrofe è ancora percepito mentre il mondo sembra andare avanti senza sosta. Una delle principali fonti di reddito per l'isola è il turismo. La gente del posto riferisce che l'attività è "lenta" "molto lenta". Come risultato del rallentamento degli affari, le persone che vivono qui tutto l'anno hanno sofferto molto.

Porteremo il riso alla Croce Rossa, alle scuole, alle chiese e alla comunità come sforzo per aiutare durante questo periodo buio.

Ti sto dando l'opportunità di aiutare in una causa molto importante. San Martino ha un disperato bisogno di aiuto. Quando gli altri stanno ululando ... È quando ruggiamo! Insieme possiamo fare e faremo la differenza nel mondo, ma ho bisogno che tu mi unisca nei miei sforzi per farlo! "

Contribution text from Cassandra O'Brien (ENGLISH)

"On Sept. 6, 2017, the island was slammed by Irma, a Category 5 hurricane that left utter wreckage in its wake. Roofs were whisked away, and shops were knocked askance. Floodwaters inundated hotels, grocery stores, schools and homes. 90 percent of all structures were destroyed by the tragic devastation that gripped the island with no remorse for anything standing in its path.

St. Maarten has seen much improvement in rebuilding what was lost. (The Dutch Side) St. Martin on the other hand is a different story. The progress in rebuilding has been much slower. (The French side) The entire Coastal development and business areas were completely destroyed.

Almost two years later the impact of this catastrophe is still being felt as the world seems to be moving on without pause. A main source of income for the island is the tourism. Locals report that business is "Slow" "Very Slow." As a result of slowing business the people who live here year round have suffered greatly.

We will take the rice to the Red Cross, Schools, Churches, and to the community as an effort to help during this dark time.

I'm giving you the opportunity to help in a very important cause. St. Martin is in desperate need of help. When others are howling.. It is when we roar! Together we can and will make a difference in the world but i need you to join me in my efforts of doing this!"

"El 6 de septiembre de 2017, la isla fue azotada por Irma, un huracán de categoría 5 que dejó los restos a su paso. Los techos fueron arrasados, y las tiendas fueron derribadas. Las inundaciones inundaron hoteles, supermercados, escuelas y hogares. Por ciento de todos Las estructuras fueron destruidas por la trágica devastación que se apoderó de la isla sin remordimientos por cualquier cosa que se interponga en su camino.

St. Maarten ha visto una gran mejora en la reconstrucción de lo que se perdió. (El lado holandés) San Martín, por otro lado, es una historia diferente. El progreso en la reconstrucción ha sido mucho más lento. (El lado francés) La totalidad del desarrollo costero y las áreas de negocios fueron completamente destruidas.

Casi dos años después, el impacto de esta catástrofe se sigue sintiendo a medida que el mundo parece avanzar sin pausa. Una de las principales fuentes de ingresos para la isla es el turismo. Los lugareños informan que el negocio es "Lento" "Muy lento". Como resultado de la desaceleración de las personas de negocios que viven aquí todo el año, han sufrido mucho.

Llevaremos el arroz a la Cruz Roja, a las escuelas, a las iglesias ya la comunidad como un esfuerzo para ayudar durante este tiempo oscuro.

Te estoy dando la oportunidad de ayudar en una causa muy importante. San Martín necesita desesperadamente ayuda. Cuando otros están aullando ... Es cuando rugimos! Juntos podemos y haremos una diferencia en el mundo, ¡pero necesito que se unan a mí en mis esfuerzos para hacer esto!"

Je vous donne une chance d'aider dans une cause très importante. Saint-Martin a désespérément besoin d'aide. Quand les autres hurlent. C'est quand on rugit! Ensemble, nous pouvons et allons faire une différence dans le monde, mais je dois me joindre à mes efforts pour y parvenir!

Car volunteered offered by Arthur Luigisse for the distribution.

Thank you for your contribution and have in mind we will chose one of the donors to come to us during the distribution days so that they can help with the deliveries, photographs, and documentation if interested.

We will give the 25000kg of rice to the following institutions:

- Churches
- Red Cross Nederlands
- Red Cross France
- Center of homeless
- Mosque

They may redistribute to nearby islands which are in need too, such as Guadeloupe.

Please, do help and quick if possible. Also because the product is perishable. We can inventory it for few months but not forever. Thank you very much and please share this through friends too.
