About Us

The foundation stone of Amudhasurabhi Enterprises was laid in 2010 under the guiding light of founder, Mr. Veeramani, with the intention of quality services to clients. From our base in Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu, we have been able to successfully and conveniently procure our raw materials.

We are a company that deals in coconuts and the various items which are obtained from harvesting them. We manufacture and supply naturally husked, dried matured coconuts and their copra which is organic in nature.

We also supply small, medium and big raw coconuts, along with the green tender version of it. We have various grades of tender coconuts which are also organically grown. Apart from that, we also supply coir pith powder, another by-product of these coconuts that we supply.

Our products are so pure and tasty that they are internationally acclaimed as superior graded products. We have clients all over the world who appreciate us for our pure products and our dedicated services. We also go a step further by ensuring that the delivery is done in a quick time so that they do not spoil as they are perishable goods that need to be handled with care and swiftness.

Our company is so well managed professionally, that there is no scope for any dissatisfaction amongst our clients. They have only appreciated and accepted us as the best in all our endeavours. We hope that we will be able to continue this way in the long run.
